Welcome to the world of Emery Oleochemicals

We are proud to invite you into our new Emery Oleochemicals family. From May 20th, Emery Oleochemicals will replace Cognis Oleochemicals as the new name and brand.

Emery Oleochemicals signals a new and an exciting period for our business, offering flexibility through a spectrum of services under one roof. This includes customized solutions to you and efficiency from global resources and expertise. Using current technology and a portfolio of proven products, we offer quality solutions and continued support through our global network and people expertise.

Our new brand represents a new style, approach and way of thinking in the industry. Our background has given us unique advantages meaning improved performance can be gained from our core strength.

As we look toward the future we are confident Emery Oleochemicals' strengths enable efficiency in our business that is translated into advantages to you. Our new identity is a symbol of strength, knowledge and commitment to build a long-term partnership. We would like to assure you that all our on-going relationships and business processes remain in effect.

To know more about this transition to Emery Oleochemicals, you are welcome to contact us directly at our new number (60)3 – 3326 8686 or visit us at www.emeryoleo.com.

Finally, we value your trust and partnership and welcome you to our Emery Oleochemicals family.

Yours sincerely,
